Parental Comments from the evening (Areas for Improvement)

'Why are some children rewarded and not others. It would appear that students who consistently achieve above their target are not given the same recognition'

(We would like to assure you that all students who achieve here at Broughton Hall Catholic High School are recognised for their achievements. Students who are consistently achieving above their target and exceeding in their diploma have a special reward later in the year)

There was a parental concern with elective choices - this was dealt with on the evening and follow up arrangements have been put in place
